House Painting Contractor Sponsors New Exhibit at Barrington Area Historical Society

Painting in Partnership, Inc. of Palatine Illinois, the Chicago area's premier house painting contractor, announced it will be the sponsor of the upcoming "Going Places" Exhibit on the History of Carriages in America, presented by the Barrington Area Historical Society from June 16 to August 11, 2008.

Carriages, as the forerunners of automobiles and trucks, played an essential role in American life in the 1800s. They came in an amazing assortment of styles, shapes, sizes, colors and finishes. The exhibit showcases a full-sized carriage and will provide a history of how carriages made and repaired, where they sold and who could afford them.

The exhibit is a joint collaboration of the Long Island Museum of American Art, History and Carriages, the Mid-America Arts Alliance and the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Mario Guertin, President of Painting in Partnership, Inc. agreed to sponsor the event saying: "Our participation in this very special exhibit is an expression of our commitment to the greater Barrington community and the preservation of its heritage. We are proud to partner with the Barrington Area Historical Society in such civic affairs and, of course, the painting, decorating and restoration of period homes and buildings."

This Chicago Area house painting company is a nationally accredited painting contractor founded in 1989. The company has garnered a reputation for outstanding craftsmanship. It is the recipient of numerous top national awards in the residential interior and exterior house painting. Guertin is a frequent contributor to painting publications and is the 2008 recipient of the Liddeke Distinguished Service Award, offered by the Painting and Decorating Contractors of America.
